Mysuru-Bengaluru flights from June 7

Mysuru, May 28 (OSR)- At last, the long-pending demands of Mysureans to connect to Bengaluru by air is being fulfilled. The Central Government under the third phase of its Regional Connectivity Scheme (RCS) or UDAN Scheme (Ude Desh Ka Aam Nagrik) has introduced flights from Mysuru to Bengaluru starting June 7, 2019.

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, in a press release, said that Alliance Air, a subsidiary of Air India, will operate the 70-seater ATR-72 on the route five days a week except on Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

The new flights between the cultural capital Mysuru and the State capital Bengaluru will help in the economic development and increase the tourist potential of Mysuru, said the MP. He also gave credit to and thanked Prime Minister Narendra Modi and former Civil Aviation Minister Jayant Sinha for including Mysuru in the UDAN-3 scheme.

Since Sept. 20, 2017, TruJet has been operating daily flights to Chennai from Mysuru and has reported 95 percent occupancy rate. It is to be seen if Mysuru-Bengaluru flights will have the same success.

Operating days - 5 days a week

(No flights on Tuesdays and Wednesdays)

Flight time: Mysuru (MYQ) Departure 12 noon - Bengaluru (BLR) arrival 1 pm
Bengaluru Departure 10.30 am - Mysuru arrival 11.25 am

Price: Mysuru-Bengaluru Rs. 1,504 (Rs. 1,365 if booked on airindia.com)
Bengaluru-Mysuru Rs. 1,589 (Rs. 1,365 if booked on airindia.com)

It may be recalled that flights between Mysuru-Bengaluru were introduced in 2016-17 when the same Alliance Air had flights departing Bengaluru for Mysuru at 6 am and returning to Bengaluru at 8 am. Unfortunately, it did not find much success and was stopped. Later they operated flights only during Dasara festival.

Manish Salian, Director, Bharath International Travels, one of the top travel agencies in Mysuru, speaking to SOM this morning said that, earlier the flight timings were odd so people were not inclined to take early morning flights, but the new timings are very convenient for people who are taking connecting flights, both domestic and international, from the Bengaluru Airport.

He also informed that unlike last time when the Air India staff in Bengaluru themselves did not know that their airline was operating from Mysuru, this time the bookings are already available online on the Air India website.

Flight schedules and rates: The fare for the one-hour Bengaluru-Mysuru flight is Rs.1,580. But it is Rs. 1,365 if booked on the Air India website. The price to fly from Mysuru-Bengaluru is Rs. 1,504 and again it is Rs. 1,365 if booked from the Air India website.

The flights from Bengaluru, AI 9539 will depart from the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) at 10.30 am and arrive at the Mysore Airport in Mandakalli at 11.25 am. The flight from Mysuru, flight AI 9540 will depart at 12 noon and arrive at KIA, Bengaluru at 1 pm.

Flights to other cities soon

MP Pratap Simha in his press release also mentioned that TruJet flight that began its daily operations on Sept. 20, 2017 from Mysuru to Chennai has turned profitable and that is a good sign. He then added saying that under UDAN-3 scheme Mysuru has also bagged four routes which are to Goa, Kochi, Belagavi and Hyderabad.

Ghodawat Airlines, Alliance Air, InterGlobe Airlines, SpiceJet and Turbo Megha Air are among the selected airlines that are likely to operate flights to these destinations from Mysuru.

Pratap Simha thanks voters, lists his priorities

- He is the first MP from Mysuru to be re-elected for the second straight time in 30 years
- To invite Modi for International Yoga Day

Mysuru, May 28 (RKB&DM)- Attributing his victory entirely to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha has expressed gratitude to everyone who supported and worked for him in the Parliamentary elections, the results of which were announced on May 23.

Addressing a Thanksgiving Press Meet at Patrakarthara Bhavan here this morning, Pratap Simha paid obeisance to Goddess Cauvery, Goddess Chamundeshwari, the presiding deity of Mysuru and Lord Iggu-thappa for his victory.

Hearty Hospitality

Two well-marked natives of particular districts of Karnataka and Kerala figured in a cartoon following the historic event of astronauts landing on Moon (July 16, 1969). A tea stall and an establishment to serve coffee and snacks (idli, dosa) were shown to have pre-empted the astronauts in reaching the Earth's satellite orbiting at an average distance of about 385 kms. The message of that cartoon portraying the pioneering nature of these two sections in the country's population to provide hospitality as it were may not have been missed by readers of dailies that published the cartoon, all in good humour. Mysuru has not lagged behind any city across the country in hosting the hospitable destinations to the urbanites, given the number of them being counted in four digits (Mysuru has reportedly more than 4,000 mobile canteens spread across all parts of the city). The sharp rise in the number of different avatars of hospitality destinations in the city, namely hotels, restaurants, darshinis and other eateries catering food cannot be missed, some streets hosting them to meet the preferences of gourmets of all cross-sections of society in their socio-economic diversity.

Providing the visitors to the city, particularly yatris, free lodging in choultries, a culture dating back to several centuries, has passed into pages of history. The choultry or dharmashala has yielded place to the hotel, with the classical definition as an establishment that provides paid lodging on a short-term basis. Hotels are currently classified by star-rating, with the five-star hotels marked by tariffs beyond even the upper middle class.

The country's hotels and restaurants having come to be a mainstay on counts of investment and the workforce across the country enjoy the status of an industry. Lack of trained and skilled human resources has been recognised as a major issue inhibiting the growth of the sector to realise its full potential, especially in tourist destinations like Mysuru, the region reportedly witnessing tourist footfall of more than 35 lakh annually. The city has currently more than 250 hotels and resorts. Given the expected steep rise in the number of tourists to the region in days ahead, including foreign tourists, marked by diverse tastes and preference, hotel infrastructure also needs improvement to match global norms.

Shortfall in trained manpower for hotel industry having been highlighted in the industry circles, the government's plans to establish institutions offering degree course in hoteliering raises hopes of transforming hotels into establishments of hearty hospitality in days ahead.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

HUMBLE LEADER OR RUTHLESS RULER: There is an old saying यथा राजा तथा प्रजाः in Sanskrit, as the King so are the People. In a Democracy, the reverse is also true. As the People, so is the King. So, the People have got the King they deserve again in 2019. Indian Democracy is comparatively young. Hence, the commoners still believe that the country should be ruled by an able Raja or Rani. Indira Gandhi in a sense was the Rani ma, then the Prince came along, followed by the widow of the Prince. People eventually got tired of the corruption and nepotism of the ruling family, along with the rising perception that the Congress and other Secular parties were engaged in the appeasement of minorities for what has come to be called vote-bank politics. To an extent, this is also the reality. — Sudarshan Iyengar in Deccan Herald

VOICE OF THE READER

Maintain status quo

of MEMU Special departure timing from Bengaluru-Mysuru

Sir,

Train No.06575 "MEMU" Special is really a boon to all commuters of KSR Bengaluru City Railway Station to Mysuru and vice versa, en route in each and every aspect, economically, financially and also time-wise, which reaches the destinations earlier than the so-called superfast trains with higher fare, many a time.

The present departure timing 19.50 from KSR is most ideal for one and all as one could catch the train after finishing all works at company, factory, miscellaneous, despite even attending functions, after escaping from typical traffic snarls and jams.

To be frank, it started giving a bad business to other means of transports since people preferred MEMU. It is also observed that many passengers park their own vehicles and get into MEMU train for its feasibility.

Of late passengers are likely to be handicapped because of the proposed change in departure timings from KSR at 17.20 but kept in abeyance which is most inconvenient even to reach, let alone catch our Special MEMU.

Hence, I request the authorities concerned to maintain the status quo of the same departure timing as 19.50 from KSR Bengaluru to Mysuru.

Dangerous headlights

Sir,

Though Mysuru City Traffic Police are trying their level best to inculcate some discipline to the un-disciplined motorists, our un-disciplined motorists are refusing to reciprocate.

We find many two-wheeler and four-wheeler drivers using high power "Halogen" headlights. Many Chinese origin cheap high wattage halogen lamps are available in the market and the motorists replace the original headlights with these high power lamps.

These halogen headlights emit a white light with a high luminance which causes momentary blindness to the motorists driving in the opposite direction, which can be fatal.

During night hours we find the Traffic Police apprehending only the drunken drivers and they generally do not check for any other visible traffic rules violations. Apart from checking drunken driving, Traffic Police should also check and impose penalty against all other visible traffic rules violations.

Mysuru Drinking Water Project

State Cabinet gives nod to release Rs.85 crore more

Bengaluru, May 28 (KMS&DM)- The State Cabinet yesterday decided to release Rs.85 crore as additional funds for 24x7 Drinking Water Project of Mysuru city.

Speaking to press persons after the Cabinet Meeting yesterday, Rural Development and Panchayat Raj (RDPR) Minister Krishna Byregowda said that the funds has been released to expedite the Drinking Water Project taken up under Atal Mission for Rejuvenation and Urban Transformation (AMRUT) scheme.

Pointing out that the Cabinet has also agreed to release Rs.168 crore towards revision of construction cost of Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences in Mysuru, he said that Rs.522.37 crore would be released for modernisation of Visvesvaraya Canal and other distribution canals of the KRS to ensure water supply to farmers at the tail end of KRS Reservoir.

The other decisions taken by the Cabinet include grant of Rs.59 crore for construction of 1,000-bed facility at Victoria Hospital in Bengaluru, approval to include None Of The Above (NOTA) option during Urban Local Body elections, release of Rs.136.94 crore for Multi-Village Water Supply Schemes at Uttara Kannada and Hassan and Comprehensive Drinking Water Project for Holenarasipura from Hemavati River at a cost of Rs.62.45 crore, among others.

The Cabinet has approved the tender for cloud-seeding at a cost of Rs.93 crore for 2019-20 and 2020-21. Kyathi Climate Modification Consultants has been awarded the tender for the cloud-seeding project, he added.

The Minister further said that Hindustan Aeronautics Ltd. (HAL) has approached the State Government saying it can take up cloud-seeding.

Cabinet approves ordinance to protect KPSC recruitees

In another important decision, the State Cabinet decided to promulgate an ordinance as a one-time relief measure to 'Protect' Gazetted Officers who will face demotion or lose jobs as their recruitment process in 1998 was found to be fraught with irregularities.

"The 1998 batch of KPSC recruitment has been caught in legal entanglements. As per the orders of the High Court, which has directed the Government to set right anomalies in the recruitment process followed by the KPSC in the 1998 batch, at least 25 officials in service are set to lose their jobs, while some others including those who have been promoted as IAS officers, face demotion," Krishna Byregowda said.

Pointing out that as per the Court order, 28 candidates will be new entrants and 25 who are in service will lose their job, the Minister said: "As a one-time relief, the Cabinet has approved a new ordinance to protect only those who will be demoted and those who will lose their jobs.

The Karnataka Civil Services (Protection of service of persons appointed in pursuance to final selection list published by Selection Authority) ordinance, 2019, will now be sent to the Governor for assent, he added, while asserting that the ordinance would not amount to condoning irregularities in the recruitment.

Shoot-out case: CID officials intensify investigation

Mysuru, May 28 (RK&KS)- The Criminal Investigation Department (CID) officials, who are probing the shoot-out incident, which took place at Hebbal Ring Road junction on May 16 morning, have intensified their investigation. Five CID officials, led by Dy.SP Chandrashekar, who have arrived from Bengaluru have grilled the then Vijayanagar Police Inspector B.G. Kumar who had shot dead Sukwinder Singh from Punjab, an ASI and four other Police staff who were reportedly present during the shoot-out.

The CID sleuths, who visited the spot, have questioned a tender coconut seller and a jelly stone-sand trader and have collected their statements.

Though the CID sleuths asked the Police staff What was the need for the Inspector to fire, was it inevitable? When other who had come with Sukwinder fled from the spot, the Police could have asked for a backup by passing the message through wireless system and surround them or could have summoned the Garuda patrol vehicle which was at the spot and chase the others, the CID sleuths is said to have got no satisfactory replies.

It is also learnt that the CID sleuths posed a lot of questions such as If Sukwinder had a pistol, why he did not shoot? Is anyone of you wounded? If wounded, where is the medical evidence? Why five Police staff could not nab a single person? Was the pistol seized on the spot? If yes, why is it not mentioned in the Mahazar report? If the words of the Police informant were trusted, why demonetised and genuine currencies were not seized from the spot? Why only the car has been seized and the informant let off?

The CID sleuths have collected the incoming and outgoing call details made by Inspector Kumar from the time the informant made his first call at about 8 am on May 16 till 10.45 am when he (Inspector) informed the incident to City Police Commissioner.

When the decision to conduct an operation pertaining to exchange of demonetised currencies to genuine currencies was made, it should have been brought to the notice of the higher officials as per the rules and should have documented the operation in the Police Station records. But why was the operation carried out without taking enough precautionary measures, that too in mufti?

When the person was shot dead by the service rifle and the dead body taken to the hospital, why the information was not given to the higher officials and why the information was not passed to the Police Control Room even after one hour though the doctors had declared him dead? What was the reason behind it? were some questions that were learnt to be posed to the Inspector.

As the Court has ordered the investigation based on 16 points, the CID sleuths questioned the Inspector and the Police staff.

Pradeep Jagadish

The deceased leaves behind his wife Dakshayini, a son and a daughter. Last rites were performed at Vijayanagar Hi-Tech Crematorium this afternoon.

The deceased is Jagadish (23), son of Swamy and a resident of Jettihundi in the taluk.

It is learnt that Jagadish, who was mason by profession, was proceeding on his two-wheeler from Hinkal to Bogadi and was found lying in a pool of blood near Hinkal junction probably after being hit by some unidentified vehicle. V.V. Puram Traffic Police, who rushed to the spot, conducted mahazar and shifted the injured Jagadish to K.R. Hospital, where he succumbed to injuries later. The Police, who have registered a case in this regard, are checking the footages of CCTV cameras installed nearby and are investigating.

Schools reopen tomorrow

DDPIs asked to ensure reopening on celebration mode

Mysuru, May 28 (US&SPN)- Primary and High Schools in the State will reopen from tomorrow for the academic year 2019-20. The Department of Public Instruction Commissioner, Dr. M.T. Reju has instructed all DDPIs to make everything ready for the reopening like cleaning school premises, class rooms, kitchen and toilets along with safety aspects and drinking water facilities.

The DDPIs have been asked to ensure that all schools reopen on a celebration note decorating the premises and providing lunch with sweets to students. They have been also instructed to hold meeting of Heads of Schools to ensure the completion of action plan for 2019-20, preparation of time-table for students and teachers.

Drop-outs: About 70,116 children have dropped out of schools in the State and DDPIs have been asked to take serious note of that and see that such children come back to schools. It is also suggested to organise awareness rally by students, plan to visit houses of school drop-outs and create awareness among parents on importance of education.

Anganwadi workers to stage demo in Bengaluru on May 30

Mysuru, May 28 (RKB&DM)- Urging the Government to entrust the responsibility of running LKG and UKG classes to Anganwadi Kendras, the Anganwadi workers from across the State will stage a demonstration in Bengaluru on May 30.

Announcing this at a press meet here yesterday, State Anganwadi Workers Association President H.S. Sunanda said that as part of the demonstration, a massive rally will be taken out from KSR Bengaluru City Railway Station to Freedom Park at 11.30 am on May 30.

More than 50,000 workers are expected to take part in the demonstration to be held at Freedom Park, she said and warned of an indefinite stir if the Government does not officially hand over running of LKG and UKG classes to Anganwadis.

Vehicle seized by MCC officials in connection with illegal cable laying disappears, Mayor orders Police complaint

Mysuru, May 28 (SBD&DM)- In a curious incident, a vehicle that was seized by the MCC officials in connection with illegal Telecom cable laying in the city, has gone missing from the MCC premises, where it was parked after seizure.

Following a tip off that some persons were unauthorisedly using electric poles for laying Telecom Network cables, the MCC officials on April 30 had seized a Jeep-type Bolero vehicle in MCC Ward No. 4 limits. Following the seizure, the vehicle was parked at the space close to the Election Branch of the MCC in the MCC Office premises and its keys were handed over to the Control Room.

But to everyone's shock, the vehicle has gone missing since the past three days. But the vehicle keys are with the Control Room, thus giving rise to suspicions about the curious case.

But what is more surprising is that none of the top MCC officials do not know about how the seized vehicle went missing when its keys are with the Control Room.

However, the security staff claimed that someone drove the vehicle away and they have no much knowledge about it.

Upon coming to know of the incident, Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath held a meeting at the MCC office yesterday, in which Deputy Mayor Shafi Ahmed, former Mayors Ayub Khan, Arif Hussain and others took part.

MCC Additional Commissioner Shivanandamurthy, MCC Zone 5 Assistant Commissioner Mahesh and Development Officer Veeresh were summoned to the meeting.

The officials told that after the seizure, the vehicle was parked in the MCC premises and the keys were handed over to the Control Room. A day after the seizure, the cable company got permission from CESC and presented a copy of it, seeking release of the vehicle. The company's appeal for the release of the vehicle was brought to the notice of the MCC Commissioner.

The officials also maintained that it was not correct to hand over the vehicle keys to the Control Room staff, who are outsourced. But the Mayor and the former Mayors, who seemed unconvinced with the explanation, directed the officials to lodge a Police complaint about the missing seized vehicle and cables.

Deputy Mayor Shafi Ahmed called for an end to unauthorised cable laying in the city.

Former Mayor Arif Hussain said that unscientific and haphazard laying of cables have threatened footpath space and also damaged the city's beauty.

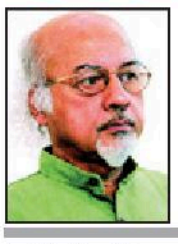
All set for the next 20 years



Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

When the enormity of it all sank in — the overwhelmingness of the exit polls, their near unanimous predictions, and then the final numbers that burst like pellet bombs — I found myself staring into the silence of the losers. Honesty being the best policy, I need to admit that I was with those who considered the BJP divisive and Amit Shah untrustworthy. So the latter's stunning victory stunned me.

Four factors were more impactful than I had imagined: Narendra Modi's strength as a public speaker, Amit Shah's genius as a booth-level strategist, the BJP's access to funding unequalled by any other party, and the absence of an Opposition that could stand up to the BJP. Rahul Gandhi had become a mature politician and had campaigned energetically in recent months, but that wasn't enough to move the mountain before him.

Give the mountain its due. It made caste a non-issue in the North, dashing the hopes of Mayawati and Akhilesh Yadav. Mamata Banerjee's fortress shook with the BJP gaining 18 seats in West Bengal against Trinamool's 22; Communists scored zero. In Karnataka out-of-power BJP alliance walked off with 25 of 28 seats. Even the ill-famed Pragya Thakur was swept to victory on the BJP tide. Amit Shah had said all along that his party would gain a tally of 300-plus. It did just that. A standing ovation is due.

The power so carefully planned and attained cannot be short-lived. It is safe to predict that the present BJP leadership will stay in power for the next 20 years, perhaps longer. Here is the breakdown. Modi will complete his second term in 2024. That year he will be 74 years old and Amit Shah 60. Amit Shah will succeed Modi and win two terms ending in 2034 when he will be 70. He can remain PM for a third term until he is 75, the BJP's official age limit. The party will have secured its moorings so strongly by then that even a broomstick it puts up would win as was said about the Congress once upon a time.

Other features may develop alongside, however. Much will depend on how the word Nationalism becomes a shaper of Democracy. This is not as simple as it sounds. Act of Folly by Lewis Lapham uses 369 pages to show how Donald Trump was "upfront and fascist in his scorn for the Democratic idea." He cited Italian novelist-philosopher Umberto Eco's proposition that fascism was essentially faith-based — faith in axioms such as Doctrine supersedes reason, Science is suspect, Arguments are tantamount to anti-nationalism.

Umberto Eco had been influenced by his country going under the boots of the National Fascist Party of Mussolini. Note that name. National Fascist. Hitler's party was called the National Socialist German Workers' Party. Mahatma Gandhi worked for the Indian National Congress. National was a jacket that fitted many sizes. In today's India, it fits only one size and one colour, all others being anti-national.

Nationalism wins when it has the power to ensure that it does not lose. Psephologist-turned-politician Yogendra Yadav said, before the exit polls, that the BJP would win. He foresaw "electoral authoritarianism where elections take place as planned but everything else that sustains a Democracy does not exist." He made it a lot clearer when he said: "I feel that this election will contribute to the beginning of the dismantling of our Republic."

The rush of reports about EVMs came later. Good citizens didn't want to attach too much importance to these reports lest it looked like sour grapism. But a former Chief Election Commissioner, O.P. Rawat, had rather disturbing things to say when he saw lorry loads of EVMs being transported in a number of centres a day after polling. He said:

"There is no issue of reserve EVMs being transported during the election. From where it is coming, where it is moving to, why it is moving ... It should remain where it was stored."

But it didn't, and I found myself in the silence of the lost. Needing help, I turned to the Bhagavad Gita on my desk. I learned yet again: The wise grieve neither for the living nor for the dead... He who regardeth himself as slayer and he who thinketh he is slain, both are ignorant... Unborn, perpetual, eternal and ancient, he is not slain when the body is slaughtered... For certain is death for the born, and certain is birth for the dead; therefore over the inevitable thou shouldst not grieve.

Amen.

Make it compulsory to plant two saplings in every site

Vanamahotsav: Preliminary meeting held

Chief Conservator of Forests Ambadi Madhav, DCF Prashant, Hunsur Division DFO Vijaykumar, MUDA Commissioner P.N. Kantharaju and others seen at the preliminary meeting of the Environmental Day celebrations at the Aranya Bhavan in Ashokapuram yesterday.

Mysuru, May 28 (YDS&NNN)- A law must be introduced to compulsorily plant two saplings in front of every site. The saplings must also be planted in the premises of schools and colleges. In functions and meetings, a culture must spread to distribute saplings. We ourselves should take steps to plant saplings, were some of the ideas and suggestions that came up yesterday at the preliminary meeting of Vanamahotsav celebrations to be held on June 5.

The representatives of NGOs and environmentalists, attended the meeting at the Aranya Bhavan in Ashokapuram yesterday, and shared their ideas to mark World Environment Day celebrations.

Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) Commissioner P.S. Kantharaju said that there are 960 layouts under the MUDA limits so far and if the site owners are asked to plant the saplings, they start arguing.

Hence, the Forest Department must pass an order to make the planting of two saplings in front of the 30X40 ft, 60X40 ft and 50X80 ft sites compulsory. If they do not do it, then their khata will not be done and layouts will not be modernised are the rules that must be enforced, he suggested.

Environmentalist Bhanumohan said that in the vacant MUDA sites there should be a provision to plant saplings. The trees are being cut inside the choultry premises for parking and this should be stopped and parking made compulsory inside the choultry premises.

Stringent punishment must be given to those who cut trees and the habit of putting up advertisements on trees by nailing them must be prevented, he urged.

Kannada Sene State President Anand Kumar said that when new layouts are formed, MUDA Commissioner must make it compulsory to plant at least two saplings. In the meeting, the absence of Mysuru City Corporation Commissioner is really a sad situation, he added.

Selling saplings: Hunsur Spoorthi Association President Sudhamani alleged that under the Krishi Aranya Protsaha Yojane (Agriculture Forest Encouragement Scheme) the Range Forest Officers (RFO) are selling the saplings given under this scheme for Rs.5 each.

In this scheme, the farmers are given support price along with saplings to grow in their agriculture lands. However, the farmers should inform one year in advance as to how many saplings they need.

The scheme also provides opportunities for NGOs to grow the trees. But when the NGOs approach them they come up with the excuse that they have planted one lakh saplings and as it has rained, the sapling stocks are exhausted. The saplings meant for the public is being sold, she charged.

Vijayanagar 3rd Stage Tree Lovers Club President M.N. Subramani (right) presenting a memorandum to CCF Ambadi Madhav.

Chief Conservator of Forests Ambadi Madhav said that as part of World Environment Day, the city is going to be made greener and there are plans to plant 30,000 saplings. For this urban greenery plan, different Departments, NGOs and environmentalists must cooperate with the Forest Department, he added.

The Forest Department will take up the responsibility of planting saplings in schools, colleges and hospitals, apart from planting them in layouts, extensions and on the side of the roads. However, the responsibility of nurturing them by watering the plants must be taken up by the locals. Thus they should help in greening of the city, he said.

Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) Prashanth said that the meeting had been called with regard to transforming the clean city into a green one and suggestions gathered. This time as part of the Environment Day more importance is being given for air pollution control and in this direction, the greenery aspect is being given importance.

In the city and outer ring road planting saplings by the roadside and under Krishi Aranya Protsaha Yojane, farmers are being encouraged to plant saplings. In the city, 30,000 saplings of eight feet height and on ring road 20,000 saplings will be planted, he said.

In the rural areas, under Krishi Aranya Protsaha Yojane, nine lakh saplings will be distributed. For this, different species of trees have been grown in the district's T. Narasipur, Nanjangud one each, H.D. Kote - 2, Mysuru - 3 nurseries. Depending on the height, the saplings will be sold between Re.1 and Rs.3, he explained.

Vijaynagar 3rd Stage Tree Lovers Club President M.N. Subramani said that trees of a few varieties could be planted even under the electric pole lines and it must be pruned to maintain the height at 11 or 12 feet.

He also pointed out that the Tree Committee, which was constituted by the Forest Department, is defunct now and called for the constitution of a new Tree Committee a the earliest.

Hunsur Division DFO Vijaykumar, Mandya District Deputy Conservator of Forests Shivaraju, ZP Planning Officer Prabhuswamy, Deputy Secretary Shivakumar, environmentalists Dr. Bhamy V. Shenoy , Shylajesh, Vasanth Kumar Mysoremath and others were present.

Revival hopes for Falcon Tyres still alive: CM HDK to hold meeting this evening

Bengaluru, May 28- Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) has convened a meeting at his Official Residence, Krishna at Bengaluru this evening to explore the revival of Mysuru-based defunct Falcon Tyres Limited.

Mysuru District Minister G.T. Devegowda, Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh, Departmental officials and Employees' Union representatives are likely to take part in the meeting.

The meeting will discuss the rejuvenation of the company on how the company could be revived as over 2,500 employees are facing an uncertain future. The factory, established over four decades ago, was one of the largest two-wheeler tyres and tubes manufacturers in Asia.

It may be recalled that the meeting chaired by Large and Medium Scale Industries Minister K.J. George at Bengaluru on last Feb. 16 had explored the possibility of establishing a Co-operative Society or Co-operative Union through employees of the factory.

There is a need of Rs.180 crore for the factory to be revived and this meeting was also discussed the possibilities of raising the money through employee share and also mop up money through public offers, considering the profitability of tyre companies and also looking at other tyre companies that are making profits.

This suggestion of shares and public offers was given by officials from Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) who were part of the meeting.

Falcon employees can themselves establish a Co-op. Union that is supervised by the Government. The Union can collect funds with the active support of the Government and with the funds, production can start in the factory and even marketing activities can take place.

Congress Meet at Rahul Gandhi's House today at 4.30 pm

Rahul refuses to go back on his decision to quit as AICC President

New Delhi, May 28- Amid Congress attempts to persuade Rahul Gandhi to continue as Party President after its national election rout, his sister Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot and his deputy Sachin Pilot met him this morning.

Sources say the AICC Chief has called a meeting at his home at 4.30 pm today.

Rahul Gandhi has refused to go back on the decision that he conveyed to the Party at a post-mortem by the Congress Working Committee on Saturday. The Party's top decision-making body will meet again this week, say sources, if Rahul Gandhi does not change his mind.

"He will not change his mind, though I want him to continue," said Tarun Gogoi, a member of the Congress Working Committee. He said Rahul Gandhi was extremely upset with senior leaders of the party. "He was not happy with some of our seniors. The way many senior leaders behaved, he felt they should have worked hard but they were not up to his expectations," the former Assam Chief Minister said.

On Monday, Rahul Gandhi told two Congress leaders, Ahmed Patel and K.C. Venugopal, to look for his replacement, according to sources.

In its 134-year history, the Congress has been led mostly by members of the Nehru-Gandhi family and has not done very well under the rare non-Gandhi chief, like Sitaram Kesri.

But Rahul Gandhi has now firmly said it is time the Party looks for a non-Gandhi as its leader and go for a total reset.

The Congress failed to win a single seat in 17 States and Union Territories and won only 52 seats in the 543-Member Lok Sabha — not enough to qualify even for the post of Leader of Opposition (a party needs 55 for that).

Looking back ...

Lest we forget their sacrifice-1

The story of Field Marshal K.M. Cariappa

A Leader, Commander, Benevolent Father to his children and a guiding beacon that led an entire nation and her armed forces — Field Marshal Kodandera Madappa Cariappa was the first Indian Commander-in-Chief of the Army. He was to his men the epitome of gentlemanly conduct and selflessness. His ideals still hold sway in the Indian Military Establishment. His greatest gift to the Indian People, probably was a fighting force that was no less compared to any other in the world and yet had the commendable restraint that prevented the Army from ever meddling directly in the political machinations of the country. This delineation lent a sense of integrity and unique purpose to the Military Establishment that has held it in good stead all these years. The credit for this must go to K.M. Cariappa. May 15, 2019 was his 26th Death Anniversary and it would indeed be a good time for a look back on his life and events...

Field Marshal K.M. Cariappa
28.1.1899 - 15.5.1993

At a time, when our people seem to have developed doubts about the SACRIFICES of our armed forces and possess the temerity to ask for 'EVIDENCE' for their HEROISM and VALOUR, let us remind ourselves of the legends who have gone by, without whose sacrifice and forethought, we wouldn't have the unified country, which we take for granted today !

By Dr. S.N. Bhagirath

On the 28th of January, 1899 the residents of Shanivarasanthe in Coorg heard a shot fired from the revenue quarters heralding the birth of a baby boy. The boy's parents were Kodandera Madappa and Ammayya. He was the second among six children and was fondly called 'Chimma.' Madappa was a Sub-divisional Magistrate in Shanivarasanthe at that time. Chimma would one day command the Indian Army in Independent India and play definitive roles in WW-II and wars with Pakistan soon after Independence. He nurtured an Army that has stood the test of time. Till the very end of his life, he dedicated to the Army, a spirit of camaraderie and patriotism which remains legendary to this day.

Field Marshal K. M. Cariappa stuck to one particular daily habit — he would get up every morning, finish his ablutions and before his breakfast, walk up to the fire place by his bed side to render his salute to three things lined up there — the two photographs of his mother and father and a small silver statue of the unknown Indian Soldier! Like a true gentleman he sat for breakfast wearing a full suit, often alone.

EARLY YEARS

K.M. Cariappa had his schooling at Madikeri. His English teachers C. Rensford and W.H. Whiteworth made quite an impression on the young Cariappa and imbibed British values in him. He was fond of playing Cricket and Hockey. In 1918, he went to Presidency College at Madras for his graduate studies. On his return to Coorg, there was an ongoing recruitment for the post of "Commissioned Officers" for the Army. Chief Commissioner Cobb was impressed by K.M. Cariappa and selected him over others.

Cariappa joined 'Daley Cadet College' on June 1, 1918. His first posting was in the 88th Carnatic Infantry (2nd Battalion) wherefrom he was transferred to 125 Napier Rifles. This regiment was stationed at Mesopotamia (Iraq) for two years. At the end of two years, he was transferred to 'Prince of Wales' 37th Dogra Regiment, which was at that time stationed in Afghanistan. During these postings, Cariappa learnt and incorporated into his men the tricks of guerrilla warfare — a move that caught the attention of his British superiors which eventually resulted in his promotion to the post of Quartermaster. He is believed to have got the nick-name 'Kipper' around this time. This nickname was later adopted by Nehru and Indira Gandhi as well!

As a representative of the British Indian Army, K.M. Cariappa had the opportunity to visit and observe many other armies. While in Japan, he sadly lost his mother in India. Upon his return, his reputation as an able officer had begun to make rounds in the higher echelons of the British administration. He was entrusted with the onerous task of escorting Viceroy Lord Irwin to Madikeri on an official visit. Cariappa was just 24 years old ! By 1927, Cariappa was a Captain in the Army. Cariappa's coaching at Royal United Services Institute in 1932 and his time at Small Arms School (SAS) and Royal School of Artillery (RSA) prepared him well enough to clear the Quetta Staff College Entrance Examination. In 1936, he was appointed as Staff Captain and in 1938 he was promoted to the rank of Major.

PERSONAL LIFE

On his 37th birthday, he was sent back to India and was stationed at Hyderabad. In the same year, he got married to Muthu in a traditional Coorgi style wedding. He had his first child, a boy (Nanda Cariappa) in January of 1938. His daughter Nalini Cariappa was born in February of 1943. His tedious and hectic schedule and the constant transfers across the continent eventually took a toll on their marital life. The couple separated in 1946. After the separation, Cariappa took both his children (aged eight and three years) under his wings. He was ably assisted in this effort by his sister. A sudden transfer for Cariappa's sister's husband to Andaman & Nicobar Islands meant that he could no longer take care of both children by himself. He decided to send his daughter with his sister and retained his son with himself. In 1954, Cariappa learnt of the sad demise of his former wife Muthu in a car accident.

PROFESSIONAL LIFE

At the start of Second World War (1939), K.M. Cariappa was stationed in Iraq under General Slim in the Tenth Indian Division. By the end of 1939, Slim recommended Cariappa for the prestigious 'Mentioned in Dispatches' distinction. The next year (1940) saw Cariappa taking command of the Indian Divisions in Iran & Syria. In the succeeding decade, Cariappa became the first in Indian history to be offered the post of a 'Commander.' He took command of the 'Rajput Machine Gun Battalion' as acting Lieutenant Colonel in 1942. In 1943, the Japanese army occupied Burma and Andaman & Nicobar Islands. K.M. Cariappa was transferred to Calcutta (Eastern Command) to take back territories of Burma and Andaman & Nicobar Islands. His valour and able leadership at the height of Second World War earned him the 'Order of the British Empire' in 1944. Soon after World War II, he was promoted to the post of Brigadier.

ISSF WC: Rahi, Saurabh bag Gold

Rahi Sarnobat

Munich, May 28- Rahi Sarnobat added the third gold in India's medals tally at the ISSF World Cup 2019 in Munich as she bagged the top podium spot in the 25 metre pistol event.

By the virtue of the victory, Rahi Sarnobat has booked herself a quota in the Tokyo Olympics.

In the day earlier, Saurabh Chaudhary, the 17-year-old sensation, made the country proud once again as he bagged a gold in the 10 metre Air Pistol category. The teenage broke his own world record of 245 by shooting 246.3 points in the final to take the summit standings.

It was the second gold medal at the ISSF World Cup 2019 for India after Apurvi Chandela clinched it on Sunday.

Chaudhary had proved his mettle at World stage earlier when he bagged a gold at the World Cup in New Delhi, earlier this year. His impressive run also includes a gold medal in Youth Olympic Games (2018) and a gold in 2018 Asian Games.

He also holds the World Record in 10m Air Pistol category for both senior and junior level.

Chaudhary has also impressed in the mixed team event for India as he along with Manu Bhaker had earlier won a gold medal in the 10m Air Pistol Mixed team event at the ISSF Shooting World Cup 2019 in Beijing.

The Indian pair defeated Jiang Ranxin and Pang Wei of China by a comprehensive margin of 16-6 in the gold medal battle.

It was the second consecutive gold for Manu Bhaker and Saurabh Chaudhary at the ISSF World Cup as they had clinched a gold in the same category in the New Delhi edition of the shooting World Cup in February this year.

The Dirty Picture: A reality check at K.R. Hospital

Mysuru, May 28 (SBD&BCT)- "K.R. Hospital needs urgent treatment," "K.R. Hospital in coma"... are old headlines of newspapers — as old as the Hospital itself. But despite the media highlighting the pathetic condition of the Hospital, nothing has changed so far when it comes to patient treatment, facilities and infrastructure. Except for a handful of Departments that provide ultra-modern treatment to poor patients, inefficiency lurks from most of the Departments.

At the century-old K.R. Hospital, popularly called 'Doddaspathre' by the rural folk, one can find blatant neglect despite the Hospital being a lifeline for many patients from Mysuru, Mandya, Chamarajanagar and Kodagu.

Though Centre and State Governments have launched ambitious health schemes like 'Ayushman Bharat' and 'Arogya Karnataka', such schemes are yet to be fully implemented at this Hospital. Poor patients who come with the hope of getting free treatment by producing their Ration Card, Aadhaar Card and BPL Card are the worst affected as there is no one to provide information about where to avail the benefits of the scheme.

Free treatment is just a notion

If a particular disease under the health scheme cannot be treated at a Government Hospital, patients have an option of going to a private hospital where they can get free treatment. But there is no one to explain this option at K.R. Hospital and the patients are made to run from pillar to post. Also to make matters worse, user fee is charged on all treatments that are supposed to be given free, as promised by the Government.

There is an absolute lack of facilities like ventilators, life-saving drugs, dialysis treatment and various specialised treatments that the poor cannot afford at private hospitals. Shockingly, there are no stocks of medicines at the Hospital and the patients are asked to buy medicines from private medical stores. If a doctor prescribes 10 tablets, the patients buy only two as they cannot afford the medicines.

Severe shortage of essentials

There is a severe shortage of spirit to clean wounds and some sections of the Hospital don't even have the basic thermometer and gloves to be used by doctors and the medical staff. This apart, there is a severe shortage of nurses and even in the emergency wards where they are needed the most, there is a shortage of 50 percent nurses.

The posts of nurses who have retired from service have not been filled as yet despite many requisitions. Earlier, nursing students from colleges used to be hired on temporary basis for two years to treat patients and a stipend would be given to them. Now this too has stopped and between 4 pm and 8 pm, not a single nurse can be found in the wards except for a handful of them in some of the Departments.

The casualty ward is the worst affected if an emergency patient is wheeled in as there are no nurses at least to keep the patient alive till the doctors come or to clean the wounds of any accident victim.

Money does the talk here

Patients regularly complain that they need to pay money for any kind of service apart from the user fee charged at the Hospital. Even if a patient has to be shifted from the ICU to the wards, money is demanded. A body part needs to be shaved before the doctor operates that portion. Patients have to pay Rs. 150 to Rs. 200 for shaving. Relatives and attendants of patients have to pay Rs. 200 for the patients to be wheeled into the operation theatre and again Rs. 200 for the patient to be shifted back to the wards.

As per rules, food has to be supplied individually to the wards and patients have to be fed. But food is just wheeled into the corridors and the person waits for the patients to come and have food. Due to this many patients miss out on food forcing them to eat from outside hotels and canteens. A distressing fact here is that bread, rice and milk meant for patients are shipped outside to be sold in the market.

Unscientific waste disposal

Waste disposal too is a gargantuan problem at this Hospital with garbage thrown all over. Apart from discarded cement and stone slabs, garbage bags with collected waste are disposed of within the Hospital premises. One careless step, a syringe or a glass bottle piece may pierce into your leg.

Many corners of this huge building are used to dump waste including old beds, clothes of patients, pillows and bed sheets. Due to rain, these beds decay and cause a lot of smell in the vicinity. Though the Hospital authorities have cleaned some of the places, there is more such stuff to be cleaned.

Breeding ground for mosquitoes

Old water tanks have been thrown outside near the laboratory and the existing water tanks above the Hospital constantly overflows with water collected all over the concrete roof. The motor that supplies water to these overhead tanks are never switched off and it usually takes hours for the staff to realise that water is being wasted. These roofs have turned into breeding ground for mosquitoes.

Apart from patients, nurses and doctors, there is an army of street dogs that take shelter under beds, chairs, tables and stone slabs inside the Hospital. Whenever shooed away, they growl at patients. In a way it is a stray dog paradise at a place where importance should have been given to patients and doctors.

Dakshina Kesari Awards Conferred

Mysuru, May 28- "It is students' responsibility to work towards welfare of the nation by inculcating values like social commitment, financial discipline and environmental awareness through education," suggested University of Mysore (UoM) Registrar Prof. Lingaraja Gandhi.

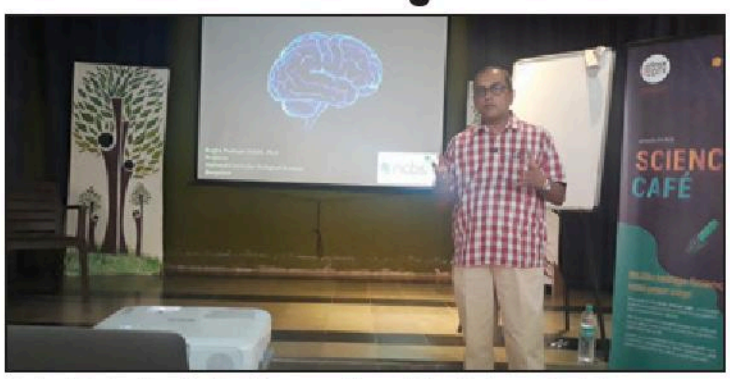
'Focus on brain disorders
as vital as focusing on diabetes'



Scientist Raghu Padiranjan speaking at the 'Science Cafe' programme organised jointly in association with CFTRI and Life Sciences Cluster at Suruchi Rangamane in Kuvempunagar on Sunday.

Mysuru, May 28 (MK&NNN)- Just as one is concerned about diabetes, heart attacks and hyper tension, people should also be focused on equally debilitating diseases like brain disorders that leads to depression, Alzheimer's, Dementia, Parkinson's, said Scientist Raghu Padiranjan.

He was speaking on the subject "New technology in detecting brain diseases," as part of the 'Science Cafe' programme organised jointly in association with CFTRI (Central Food Technological Research Institute) and Life Sciences Cluster at Suruchi Rangamane in Kuvempunagar here on Sunday.

As one grows older, it is natural to find that problems related to brain appear. However, if it is checked in the early stages itself then it is possible to find solutions to such problems, he said.

Today there is huge development in technology and it is possible to examine the conditions of the nerves in the brain. The technology helps in directly pointing to the nervous system in the brain and helps in finding the changes. This in turn will help in preventing the spread of diseases, said Padiranjan.

Later, Prof. Varadrajan Sundarmurthy, speaking on the topic 'Unseen Killers,' said that TB is found in most of the people in the respiratory system. This disease is caused by Mycobacterium Tuberculosis bacteria. This disease which cannot be traced with the naked eye cannot even be treated in a few cases. Hence, one must take precautionary measures.

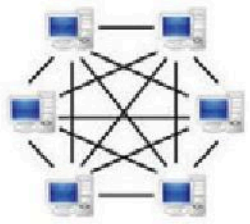
TB is being reported more in the age group of 15 to 45 years and due to lack of information, many are not getting proper treatment and are succumbing to TB. Hence, as soon as there is a suspicion about TB, one must immediately go to a hospital and compulsorily take treatment for six months. Otherwise the disease will spread in the respiratory tracts resulting in death, he warned.

Life Sciences Cluster Liaison Officer Moin Ali Khan and CFTRI Information and Publicity Department's Raghu were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Peer-to-peer

Pronunciation: PEER-tuh-PEER.



Meaning: Relating to, using, or being a network by which computers operated by individuals can share information and resources directly without relying on a dedicated central server.

Origin: The term peer-to-peer is a relatively recent addition to the English language, being little more than a half-century old. In its earliest known uses from the 1960s, it referred to something that occurs directly between human peers, people who are similar in age, grade, or status. It can still be found in this use in phrases such as "peer-to-peer tutoring." With the emergence of computer networking, peer-to-peer began to be used in reference to a system of computers. Since the turn of the 21st century, peer-to-peer lending—the borrowing and lending of money through online services—has become increasingly common.

Example: PayPal announced a new mobile peer-to-peer (P2P) payment platform called PayPal.me, which will allow users to create a personalised PayPal link and send it to peers for fast P2P transfers through PayPal. — Jaime Toplin and John Heggestuen, Business Insider, 1 Sep. 2015.

THE ODD WORD

Pother

A commotion or fuss.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Mind your Ps and Qs

Meaning: Be on your best behaviour; be careful of your language.

Origin: The date of the coinage of 'Mind your Ps and Qs' is uncertain. There is a citation from Thomas Dekker's play, The Untrussing of the Humorous Poet, 1602, which appears to be the earliest use of the expression:

Afinius: ...here's your cloak; I think it rains too.

Horace: Hide my shoulders in't.

Afinius: 'Troth, so thou'dst need; for now thou art in thy Pee and Kue: thou hast such a villanous broad back...

'Pee and Kue' in that citation seem to be referring to a form of clothing, but that is somewhat ambiguous. It is also not clear that the 'Pee and Kue' in Dekker's work are the same as those in 'mind one's Ps and Qs'.

Doubts also exist as to the original meaning. Francis Grose, in his 1785 edition of The Dictionary of the Vulgar Tongue, defines it like this:

"To mind one's P's and Q's; to be attentive to the main chance."

QUOTE BOX

My mother said to me, 'If you are a soldier, you will become a general. If you are a monk, you will become the Pope.' Instead, I was a painter, and became Picasso. —Pablo Picasso
